1. Aims

The aims of personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education in our school are to:

- develop students' thinking skills to allow them to make informed decisions
- develop responsible attitudes in order to allow students to become confident, active citizens
- to encourage the skills needed to develop positive relationships with others
- to encourage understanding and respect for others
- to develop an understanding in students of the world around them
- to prepare students for adult life in a democratic society

2. Statutory requirements

PSHE is a non-statutory subject. However, there are aspects of it we are required to teach.

- We must teach relationships and sex education (RSE) under the Children and Social Work Act 2017, in line with the terms set out in statutory guidance
- We must teach health education under the same statutory guidance

3. Content and delivery

3.1 What we teach

As stated above, we are required to cover the content for relationships and sex education, and health education, as set out in the statutory guidance (linked to above).

Refer to our Relationships and Sex Education Policy for details of our RSE provision.

The delivery of Health Education is as follows:

Key Theme	Year 7	Year 8	Year 9	Year 10	Year 11
Mental wellbeing	√	√	√	√	√
Internet safety and harms	√	√	√	√	√
Physical health and Fitness	√	√	√	√	√

Changing Adolescent Body	√		√	√

3.2 How we teach it

In Year 7, PSHE is taught as part of the weekly tutorial programme and is covered in one lesson per week. In Year 8, one lesson per fortnight is devoted to PSHE, as a timetabled lesson. In Year 9 and Year 10, PSHE is covered via drop-down 'Impact Days.' Five of these are scheduled per year, for both year groups. In Year 11, PSHE is timetabled once per week; this session is also partly given to study time at key points in the year. Careers education and citizenship are also covered through the PSHE curriculum. Assemblies are often used to highlight themes which are relevant to the PSHE curriculum, and often focus on British values and the values of the school.

The PSHE course is taught by designated members of staff in Years 7, 8 and 11. In Years 9 and 10, Impact days are covered by various members of staff. Outside agencies, including Brook, are also used to deliver aspects of the subject.

The PSHE curriculum is based around the Jigsaw course in Years 7 -11. The course follows a standard approach to the delivery of PSHE and focuses around key themes in each year:

Being me in my world

Celebrating difference

Dreams and goals

Healthy me

Relationships

Changing me

The Jigsaw curriculum is supplemented with other materials, including the Christopher Winter Project for RSE and Drugs and Alcohol Education. The RSE curriculum is outlined in the RSE Policy.
